Event description

Please join us for an in-person breakfast and roundtable discussion with Jupiter Asset Management on 'Planet, people, profit - getting under the bonnet of sustainable equity'. The event will be held at Jupiter's offices.

The role that companies can play in tackling social inequality in all its forms, considering a Just Transition, is now firmly in the spotlight, while the COP 15 summit will focus minds on urgent environmental challenges such as climate change and biodiversity loss. This session offers a deep dive into how active managers are ideally placed, through fundamental analysis, to take a forward-looking view on sustainability, separating the authentically sustainable businesses delivering real world outcomes from those who merely brand themselves as such. This analysis enables the creation of portfolios that minimise impact on the environment while maximising value for society – all while providing the returns that we need for our savings.

This will be followed by a roundtable discussion with Q&A and shared insights, moderated by Charlotte O'Leary of Pensions for Purpose.
